The next day, the students created a foldable from I'm Lovin Lit's Informational Text Interactive Notebook (which I LOVE and believe every upper grades teacher should own) that gives a great overview of all of the different text structures. We discussed the etymology of the word "Structure" and that helped the students understand that Informational Text Structure is the way in which an author ...

tl;dr - It's the camera. And using it thoughtfully can change your teaching in substantial ways. I spent most of the fall in eighth grade classrooms, watching lots of teachers enact the same set of Desmos lessons in different ways and in different contexts and with different results.. Some classes were high energy, some were low energy.
